Pew Ends

Pew ends start with the highest quality Red Oak, carefully selected for texture and grain patterns. Solid wood pew ends are constructed using a butcher block technique for strength and beauty. White finished ends are made from two layers of 1" MDF board, which allows for a smooth finish. All pew ends are finished to a thickness of 2". Other woods and custom-made designs are available on request.

Pew Ends

We offer a wide variety of pew end designs, from traditional and colonial styles to contemporary designs. Ends are available in full height styles or cantilever styles, as shown on this page. Cantilever pew ends require a solid oak end support leg which is located 7" from the inside of the pew end.

Pew Ends

Hand rubbed stains are applied to pew ends for that final touch. You can choose from our 12 standard finishes, ranging from honey oak to traditional mahogany. But like all aspects of your pew designs, we welcome your custom touch in stain selection as well, for a finished pew that uniquely enhances your house of worship and will provide years of comfort and style.

Pew Ends

While many of our pew end designs feature decorative face routs, you can also request inset tracery, crosses and other decorative features. Choose from our vast design selection, or create your own. Quality and durability, coupled with timeless designs and your own custom touch ensure that your selection from Rainsville Church Pew will please your entire congregation.
